WASHING INSTRUCTIONS & CARE OF SCHOOL CLOTHING

Schoolwear can be worn at least eight hours a day and approximately forty two weeks of the year. The garments are occasionally not only worn but used in general playground and leisure time activities for example as substitutes for goal posts, and games of tug of war with knitwear sleeves being stretched and used as gloves.

To help maintain the appearance and longevity of your garment we offer the following advice :-

Wash in a cool wash

Do not tumble dry
or dry on radiators

Do not iron Knitwear

Do not use Fabric Conditioners separately or included within washing powders.

The following washing instructions and care of school clothing is recommended for the majority of all uniform that can be washed. Advice for specific uniform is listed separately.

- Always use a cool wash (40° C) using a mild detergent at reduced machine action.
- Do not tumble dry.
- Do not use fabric conditioners.
- Do not expose to excessive heat or dry on radiators.
- Do not iron knitwear and only dry flat to retain shape.

Knitwear

- Always wash the garment inside out.
 - Continue to wash the garment regularly inside out to reduce any "pills" or "bobbles" that may form, as loose fibres come to the surface. If pilling does occur, remove by hand or purchase a machine for this purpose.
 - Always wash the garments separately or with similar coloured garments.
 - Do not iron. Ironing can cause glazing (a shiny surface) and also causes breakdown and splitting of the fibres used causing holes to appear especially in the cuffs.
- Dry knitwear flat to retain shape. Do not dry on radiators as the same effect & damage can happen as with ironing.

Kilts & Skirts

- Use only a warm iron if necessary.
- Pleated garments can be folded and washed inside a pair of tights to help retain pleats.
- Pleats will only fall out if exposed to excessive heat during washing.
- Dry kilts by hanging from the waistband.
- Do not leave in washing machine a long time after the end of the cycle.
- Only wash using a cool setting as too hot a cycle can damage pleating as well as damage any leather

Sweatshirts

The fabric used has been knitted and backed with brushed cotton to give a soft feel for the wearer. To help maintain the appearance of the sweatshirt we offer the following advice:-

- Before wearing turn the garment inside out and either wash or brush the inside of the fabric to remove any loose fibres that may remain from the softening process.
- Continue to wash the garment regularly inside out to reduce any "pills" or "bobbles" that may form, as loose fibres come to the surface. If pilling does occur, remove by hand or purchase a machine for this purpose.
- Always wash the garments separately or with similar coloured garments.
- Dry flat away from direct heat and not on radiators.
- Heat will distort the garment and can cause pilling.
- If necessary use only a cool iron on the INSIDE of the garment.

Pilling

It is recognized fact that knitted goods are prone to pilling, some more than others. The main reason is friction or rubbing against another object. This does not necessarily mean that the garment is faulty. Pilling can be caused by any of the following:-

- External friction i.e. movement against another fabric or object;
- Heat generated by the individual when the garment is worn;
- Washing in fabric conditioners can damage the fibres. This is what causes the soft effect which can result in pilling;
- Washing the garment at the incorrect temperature and/or with other fabrics that will rub against the garment;
- Tumble drying the garment where the heat draws out the fibre.

Some garments appear to have 'fluffed up' after a short period of wear and this is due to surface fibre from the yarn coming to the surface. The yarn in these cases is slightly hairier than usual and the hairs disappear after a period of wear and washing. This is similar to a carpet, where when first laid, the loose fibres come to the surface and are vacuumed away. If the fibres do not wash away, a pilling machine can be used to remove the excess fibre to enhance the look of the garment. Once the fibre is removed the garment is unlikely to pill again.
